Commercial Water Treatment Equipment

The Magnum Series

is an excellent choice where corrosion is a major concern in choosing a commercial water treatment system. The Magnum valve body is constructed of noryl plastic and is highly resistant to aggressive waters. Top mount or side mount capability for those installations where height or flow rate is a critical consideration.

By incorporating a camshaft, pilot valve design with the GE "Logix" electronic timer which gives the capability of being a day clock or metered system which is capable of controlling multiple tank configurations. Full 1½"-2" porting, combined with the diaphragm style cartridges, give the Magnum complimentary service and backwash flow rates.

Convenient location and ease of removal for injectors and flow controls, make servicing the Magnum a breeze. By installing a no hard water bypass optional cartridge the Magnum series can be considered for softening or filter applications where a constant softened or filtered supply of water is needed 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. With installation of an auxiliary micro switch on the camshaft, you now have the capability to control external devices such as chemical feed pumps or reverse osmosis units.

Combining all of the above features, adding high capacity 8% crosslinked resin and a polyethylene brine tank containing an optional safety overflow prevention system with Aqua Wholesale, and you have yourself a versatile, capable system controlled by one of the most recognized companies in the world with service second to none.
